Treat Everybody Alike

The Senate has passed and sent to the House a bill which would exempt newspapers, press associations, broadcasters and book publishers from wage and price controls.

Why? Proponents of the bill say that such is necessary to preserve the First Amendment's guarantee of press freedom.

There is some validity in this, possibly. It is conceivable that certain elements of the press might feel the sting of some pay board or price control body if those elements had done something not to the fancy or pay board or price body. Still, there are courts as a recourse if a newspaper or some other member of the press feels it has been wronged.

There seems to be a more practical reason, however, for this recent senate action. It would be nice if the press would go along with the various aspects of the President's pay-and-price controls. And now that the press has been taken from under such controls, what is there for them to talk about?

We don't think there ought to be any controls. But if there are, and there are, then the press ought to be treated just like anyone else.—Gastonia (N.C.) Gazette.

Bosom Friend

Washing machines "busted" the market for washboards, but the instrument that once was a bosom friend for women may stage a comeback.

A Californian has written National Washboard Co. that the firm should be advertising "Increase Your Bustline with a Washboard." He said his wife had a 32B bust size a few years ago and now has 34C with the same measurements elsewhere and no weight increase. He credits it all to the use of a washboard.

She could have done the same with tennis or a punching bag, but most women-like most men—are allergic to strenuous exercise. We don't think laundries need to panic over his latest revelation.—Dallas (Tex.) Morning News

A Weather Note

President Nixon has signed a bill requiring any weather modification activities, such as seeding clouds from an aircraft, to be reported to the Secretary of Commerce. The bill's provisions, farmers may be pleased to note, do not apply to the time-honored practice of praying for rain.—Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier

School Segregation in North Is Going Before U.S. Court

By DON McLEOD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court, for the first time, agreed today to hear argument on claims of segregation in a Northern public school system.

The case, accepted for review, is from Denver where a group of black and Spanish-sur-

Rescues Four Crewmen Adrift in Lifeboat

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — Four men in a lifeboat were picked up by a merchant ship Sunday night after they left their listing tanker, its one remaining lifeboat and 59 fellow crew members when high seas and heavy winds buffeted the big ship into a 45-degree list, the Coast Guard said.

The tanker Plym, of Liberian registry, was reported out of immediate danger. A radio message relayed to the Coast Guard by the merchant vessel Jacksonville said the Plym had corrected the list, although it was taking on water.

The Coast Guard said the Jacksonville radioed it had found the four crewmen in a lifeboat and taken them aboard, but there was no report on their condition.

Although the Plym had been reported out of immediate danger, the Coast Guard said "we don't know how serious the condition is."

The Jacksonville was on the scene about 200 miles southeast of Cape Lookout, N.C., and planned to stand by until relieved, the Coast Guard said.

Originally, the Coast Guard said the Plym reported the four crewmen and two life boats named school children contend they were segregated by school board planning and policy rather than by segregation laws.

The court will hold an oral hearing sometime later this term and issue a ruling by the end of June. The case was taken on without comment except for the notation that Justice Byron R. White would not participate. The reason for the self-disqualification was not given, although White is from Colorado. He has supported all civil rights advances by the high court.

The eight remaining justices including the new men, Lewis F. Powell Jr. and William H. Rehnquist, will participate.

While the Supreme Court has ruled that segregation laws in Southern and border states are unconstitutional, it has not reached the issue of school segregation in states which had no such laws.

The Denver pupils said their complaint goes even beyond the de facto, or neighborhood school, segregation of some Northern cities because they claimed it was brought about by the acts of school officials.

The suit claims that the school authorities deliberately perpetuated a segregated school system through their choice of school building sites and structuring of attendance zones.

were missing, leaving the tanker with just one lifeboat. The Coast Guard said it could not account for the other missing lifeboat.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the Plym had corrected its original 45-degree list by shifting cargo in 10-to-15-foot seas and 45-miles-per-hour winds.

The Plym, with no lights and no one on deck, had been spotted early by a Coast Guard plane from Elizabeth City, N.C. A spokesman said the fact the ship had no lights indicated water had reached the vessel's generators.

Fatality Free Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansas has had its first fatality free weekend of the year. No one lost their lives on the state's highways this past weekend.

State Police said Sunday that 15 persons have died so far this year on the state's highways as compared with 25 for the same period last year.

The Associated Press weekend fatality count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Supreme Court to Take Up the Death Penalty

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, the Supreme Court hears arguments today on whether the death penalty should be abolished as cruel and unusual punishment.

The lives of 694 men and women awaiting execution in 34 states may depend on the court's decision, to be handed down before the term ends in June.

Four black men—two sentenced to die for murder, two for rape—are the principals in the cases before the court.

The question posed, through all four appeals is a simple but far-reaching one: "Does the imposition and carrying out of the death penalty in this case constitute cruel and unusual punishment in violation of the 8th and 14th Amendments?"

It is the first time the court has allowed a challenge to capital punishment itself as a constitutional issue. Previous cases have dealt with individuals and procedural matters.

"Today the death penalty in any form is inconsistent with the self-respect of a civilized people," attorney Anthony G. Amsterdam argued in a brief.

Amsterdam, a professor of law at Stanford University, represented Earnest James Aikens Jr., condemned for murder in California, and William Henry Furman, sentenced to die for murder in Georgia.

The death penalty, Amsterdam said, "is a freakish aberration, a random and extreme act of violence, visibly arbitrary and discriminatory—a penalty reserved for unusual application because if it were usually used, it would affront universally shared standards of public decency."

"Such penalty—not law, but terror—has no place in a democratic government. It is a cruel and unusual punishment, forbidden by the 8th Amendment."

The two men condemned for rape are Elmer Branch of Texas and Lucious Jackson Jr. of Georgia. Branch was represented by Melvyn Carson Bruder of Dallas; Jackson by Jack Greenberg of New York, a lawyer for the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund.

There has been no execution in the United States since Colorado put Louis Jean Monge to death in June 1967. Many states held back, while their death rows filled, awaiting the high court's ruling.

The capital-punishment matter was considered so important that the justices planned to hear it at the start of the term in October, then delayed until the court was at full strength again with the addition of Lewis F. Powell Jr. and William H. Rehnquist.

Should the justices decide capital punishment is unconstitutional, 41 states and the District of Columbia would have to abolish the death penalty. The nine other states no longer permit executions.

AHC Acquiring Land to Widen Highway

In the near future, the Arkansas State Highway Department will begin acquisition of right of way for widening and reconstruction of Highway 29 North, Evening Shade to Hope. This project is approximately 5.559 miles in length.

According to G. I. Robertson, Jr., Chief, Right of Way Division, the Highway Department will offer individuals or businesses who have buildings on the property to be purchased for highway construction the benefit of their relocation advisory assistance. Listings of realtors, contractors, and homeowners will be maintained for the consideration and use of those who must necessarily relocate. The negotiator for the Highway Department will contact each affected owner.

If needed, relocation advisory assistance will be given by the Relocation Coordinator so displaced persons will be inconvenienced as little as possible.

Properties needed for the construction project are now being appraised and construction bids will be requested as soon as property purchases can be completed.

Agreement on Billboards

LITTLE ROCK (AP) —

The state Highway Department and the U.S. Department of Transportation have reached an agreement whereby all billboards will be banned from the almost 4,000 miles of interstate and primary highways in Arkansas except when they are within 60 feet of the business advertised.

The agreement was reached after four years of negotiation. Had the state refused to adopt the standards set by the federal Highway Beautification Act of 1965, it would have had to forfeit 10 per cent of its federal highway aid.

The billboards along the highways in rural areas will be removed as funds are made available. The federal government will provide 70 per cent of the funds to remove signs. No new signs will be allowed in rural areas where businesses are not related.

Predicts Rain for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There is a slight chance of light rain or drizzle beginning in the south and west portions of Arkansas tonight and then spreading over the state.

The precipitation is expected to end in the west portion Tuesday.

The moisture in the air is on the upswing because of the return of southerly winds. The winds are also supposed to produce warmer temperatures.

Highs Sunday remained below freezing over a good portion of the state. Temperatures this afternoon will range from the 40s in the northeast to low 50s in the west and southwest. High Tuesday should be in the low 50s northeast to 60s southwest.

Pressure for Dock Strike Settlement

By TIM REITERMAN

Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —

Longshoremen resumed a strike at 24 West Coast ports today after negotiators failed to reach a settlement. Negotiation sessions broke off but the union said they would be resumed later.

The first orders to resume picketing came at San Francisco and Los Angeles-Long Beach harbors after an 8 a.m. (PST) deadline expired.

Harry Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, emerged from bargaining sessions that had run through the night to announce:

"The strike officially resumed at 8 a.m. this morning, although we exerted all efforts we could at this time to try to settle it."

Bridges said the talks had been broken off but would be resumed later. He did not say when that might be.

Pickets appeared almost simultaneously shortly after 8 a.m. at piers on the San Francisco waterfront after the chief dispatcher at ILWU Local 10 told some 300 men in a hiring hall to resume picketing "and tie it up."

About the time, John Pandora, head of the big 2,800-member ILWU local in Los Angeles and Long Beach was saying: "As far as we're concerned, the strike is on. We're dispatching pickets now."

The Nixon administration has warned it would ask Congress to intervene and direct a settlement of any renewal of the walkout that shut ports for 100 days last year.

Negotiators for the employers' Pacific Maritime Association and the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Association met jointly with federal mediator J. Curtis Counts prior to midnight Sunday and then went into separate sessions which continued into the early morning hours.

Counts kept moving between the separate meetings, which started after the longshore union made a new offer.

"Hopefully, we'll go all night because that will mean we're accomplishing something," said Counts, chief of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Wage issues are also involved in the negotiations.

Food Stamp Regulations Revised

By JERRY BROWN

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Bowing to public pressure, the Nixon administration has revised its new food-stamp regulations to assure that all eligible families receive at least as much under the new guidelines as they did under the old ones.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz announced Sunday that he has ordered modification of the new regulations "so that the benefits available to each household are as high or higher than they were under the old regulations."

The new regulations, adopted last year along guidelines set by Congress, will increase the benefits to people with the lowest incomes.

But before Sunday's announcement, some persons at the upper end of the eligibility scale would have had to pay for the stamps, thus benefiting less from the program. An estimated two million persons would have received reduced benefits; 65,000 would have been forced out of the program.

Administration officials argued originally that reducing the benefits for those at the upper end of the scale would reduce their incentive for remaining in the program and make them think harder about taking jobs.

About 10.9 million persons are enrolled in the program, under which they pay cash for food stamps which are redeemable at grocery stores for food worth much more. On a national average, a unit—$4.50 for stamps to buy $10 worth of groceries.

Under the provision revoked Sunday, a family of four with income at the higher end of the poverty scale would have had to pay $60 a month for $108 worth of stamps. The rollback means such a family will pay $84 for $108 in coupons.

A family of four not on welfare may earn up to $360 a month before losing eligibility in the stamp program.

Butz said the program will cost $2.2 billion this fiscal year.

Under the revised regulations, employable recipients will be required to register for work.

Another new requirement is that persons living together must be related to one another to be eligible for the stamps, a provision designed to make students and members of youth communities ineligible.

These two requirements were not changed by Sunday's announcement.

Wouldn't Force Others Out

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP)

An electronic engineer says he was told to select two employees who would lose their jobs, but he quit his own rather than force someone else out.

"I lost my security and gained my freedom," said David M. Hodgins, 48, an engineer at Collins Radio Co. here for 24 years.

He was among 550 persons who lost jobs at the plant last week in the latest set of cutbacks.

The father of four children, two of whom still live at home, Hodgins announced his decision at the First Christian Church's Sunday worship service.

He said he hated the men in his group and decided—in terms of immediate money-making potential for the radio manufacturing firm—that his name should be on the bottom of the list.

Price Posting Must for Big Operators

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Today is the last day the nation's big shopkeepers can get by without posting freeze-level prices where customers can see them.

The Internal Revenue Service begins a crackdown Tuesday to enforce a legal requirement, technically in force since Jan. 2, that retailers post such prices conspicuously.

The law provides fines of up to $5,000, and possibly consumer damage suits, for anyone found in violation.

However, over the weekend the Price Commission lifted the requirement from the nation's smallest shopkeepers. It said it did so because of their lack of manpower and the stated intent of Congress to give small businesses all feasible breaks.

Under the new ruling, announced Saturday, the posting requirement no longer applies to retailers with under $200,000 a year in revenues. All other price regulations still apply.

Small firms, generally employing no more than three persons, account for 87 per cent of the nation's shopkeepers but only 34 per cent of its retail sales dollars, a Price Commission spokesman said. He said he based that on 1967 Internal Revenue Service figures.

Government agents will begin enforcing the posting requirement stringently Tuesday for all firms with more than $200,000 a year in revenues, officials said, including virtually all supermarkets, retail chain stores, big drug stores and department stores.

These stores must post the prices conspicuously, where customers can see them without having to ask an employee. What must be listed are "base prices," the highest prices that could be charged for the items in question during the Aug. 15-Nov. 13 price freeze.

All food products must have base prices posted. For other kinds of goods, only the top-selling 40 items in each department must be listed, or the items which accounted for half of last year's sales dollars in the department, whichever is less.

The Economic Stabilization Act, signed into law last Dec. 22, provides fines of up to $5,000 for each violation of the posting provision. Furthermore, no retailer may legally have raised any of his prices at any time since Nov. 14 without meeting the posting requirement.

Since the new law provides that customers may collect up to triple damages and court costs for willful overcharges by sellers, any merchant who has raised prices without posting, even if otherwise complying with Price Commission policy, may find himself subject to not only a fine, but a flurry of customer lawsuits.

Funeral Set for Firemen Who Died in L.R. Blaze

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Funeral services were set for Monday for two Little Rock firemen killed in a seven-alarm fire which destroyed a three-story building in downtown Little Rock late Saturday.

The victims, Eric Eugene Oliver, 30, of Little Rock and Jerry J. Jacobs, 29, of North Little Rock, were killed and seven other firemen injured when one of the walls of the building collapsed early Saturday morning as the firemen were pumping water into the building.

The building, at Third and Main streets, housed Bennett's, a military surplus and general merchant store, Seymour's Credit Clothing, La France Beauty Salon, and on the third floor, the kitchen and storage area for Louis Schneider's Candies.

Until about a year ago, the second floor had been used by Pfeiffer-Blass for storage.

Firemen were still pumping water on the building Sunday night.

The collapse of the wall caused an estimated $100,000 property loss of fire-fighting equipment, including a $65,000 aerial ladder truck.

Jacobs was struck by falling debris as he operated a ladder control lever on a platform on the side of the vehicle away from the burning building.

One fireman said the truck looked "like a matchbox that had been stepped on" after it was demolished by the wall.

Fire Chief Jack Davis said the fire was "the worse we have had in a 29-year period."

When the wall collapsed, Davis was standing at his car using his radio.

"I had just talked on my mobile unit radio and turned around and heard a rumble in the building," he said. "I started to holler out for them to get out of there, but before I get it (the warning) out, the wall was down. This is how quickly it happened."

Davis said he felt it was the weight of the water that had been pumped into the building and had frozen with the cold temperatures and the age of the building that had caused the wall to collapse.

The fire was first reported by a passerby at 11:34 p.m. Friday.

At the height of the fire, a fire department official estimated that about 60 firemen were at the scene.

Davis said that arson was not suspected in the fire, but he said it was not immediately possible to tell what started the blaze. He said having to totally wreck the building to insure that other walls would not collapse and cause more damage would slow down determining the cause of the fire.

However, Davis said that the fire apparently began either on the first or second floor and had followed a stairwell or elevator shaft upward, where it fanned out.

Davis said that 65-75 per cent of the buildings on Main Street in downtown Little Rock could have the same type of fire. He said the buildings were old on the inside and had been renovated only on the exterior.

Both men killed had been with the fire department for seven years.

Oliver had been off-duty Friday night and had volunteered to fight the fire rather than stay at the Central Fire Station as a backup crewman.

Several witnesses said Jacobs might have saved himself if he had not remained at the ladder controls long enough to move the ladder out of the way of the collapsing wall. Hoseman Gene Tucker was on the ladder and was injured when the wall fell.

Congress Is Going Proceedings Back Into Session in State High Court

By WALTER R. MEARS Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 92nd Congress reconvenes Tuesday to wage election-year battles over programs of the Republican administration while a corps of Democratic senators campaigns for nomination to challenge President Nixon.

The contest for the White House will shadow, and may shape, the work of a Senate and House controlled by Democrats.

Atop the agenda of domestic issues are measures for welfare reform, sharing federal revenues with cities and states, and improvement in health care and financing.

Nixon sent Congress his blueprint for action in all three areas a year ago, and the White House has forecast passage in 1972.

Democratic leaders seek action on the measures, but the congressional majority may overhaul them to put its own stamp on whatever final products emerge.

"I believe a considerable effort will be made by Democrats to take the initiative away from the President," said Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott. "The majority party is seeking identification with most of these old programs."

"Whatever Congress does in the coming session will be overshadowed by the drama of a presidential election," said Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. "Insofar as the Senate leadership is concerned, the public interest will not be short-changed for partisan gain."

Five Democratic senators, Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, George McGovern of South Dakota, Henry M. Jackson of Washington and Vance Hartke of Indiana, are campaigning for the presidential nomination. A sixth, Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, ranks high in the opinion polls although he has said repeatedly he will not run.

In the House, two Republican members, Paul N. McCloskey of California and John M. Ashbrook of Ohio, are contesting President Nixon's renomination in the presidential primaries. Democratic Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York is expected to announce her presidential candidacy later this month.

Nixon will present his program Thursday in his State of the Union address before a joint session of Congress. Republicans expect him to concentrate on a call for action on programs the administration already has proposed.

While domestic issues are likely to be dominant in the session ahead, Mansfield said he will renew his bid for approval of two foreign-policy measures bitterly opposed by the administration, a six-month deadline for U.S. withdrawal from South Vietnam, and a 150,000-man cut in U.S. forces in Europe.

Senate leaders plan to begin legislative work Wednesday, considering a bill to give the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission new power to combat job discrimination.

The first major measure due in the House is a compromise election-reform bill, imposing new financial-disclosure requirements and limiting to $6.3 million the sum each of the presidential nominees will be allowed to spend on television in the 1972 campaign.

Prosecutors Disagree on News Media Rights

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Four young prosecuting attorneys disagreed Saturday about the rights of news media to print what court officials may say although all agreed that lawyers involved in criminal cases should be circumspect in their comments about them.

The prosecutors—James Guy Tucker Jr. of Little Rock, Sam Weems of Des Arc, David Hodges of Newport and Alex Streett of Russellville—discussed the subject in a panel at the mid-winter convention of the Arkansas Press Association.

Weems was the most liberal on freedom of the press. Responding to a question from the floor for a position on the proposed rules of criminal procedure pending in the Supreme Court, Weems said, "Whatever the truth and the facts are, you ought to have the right to print them."

He said, however, that lawyers should not comment on cases. Hodges agreed about lawyers commenting and added that he would be against any severe restriction on free reporting.

"The freedom of the press has assisted the liberties of the individual," he said. "Restrictions might tempt the system to use secrecy for covering up its own faults."

"Some restraints are necessary," Streett said. "You've got to balance the freedom of the press with the right to a fair trial."

The young prosecutors, all under 35, discussed newsmaking controversies that they have been involved in during their main presentations. Hodges is in his third term. The others are in first terms.

Weems detailed at length his difficulties in extracting from the Welfare Department the information he needs to prosecute welfare abuse in his district. He said he had received no help from the 21 attorneys employed by the Welfare Department and that their jobs should be abolished.

Hodges, who investigated a pipeline rupture near Batesville, said he had found that minimum pipeline safety regulations were not adopted at the federal level until 1970. He said that today the Department of Pipeline Safety has only five engineers to check 11,000 miles of pipeline.

Streett discussed his feuds with the political establishment in his district, especially the Conway County organization headed by Sheriff Marlin Hawkins.

Hawkins once accused Streett of refusing to represent him at a hearing before the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board. "He never asked me to represent him," Streett said. "I don't know that I would have but he never asked me."

Vote Stuns Chile Leader

By WILLIAM F. NICHOLSON Associated Press Writer

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—President Salvador Allende suffered a stunning setback in two special congressional elections Sunday, but his leftist Popular Unity government called the results only "a transitory defeat."

The anti-Marxist opposition and the government parties each united behind a single candidate in the elections, one for a Senate seat, the other for a seat in the Chamber of Deputies.

Opposition candidate Rafael Moreno, a Christian Democrat, won the Senate election in Colchagua and O'Higgins provinces, just south of Santiago, with 77,614 votes to 68,338 for Socialist Hector Olivares.

In the election for deputy in Linares province, farther to the south, Sergio Diez, a National party member, defeated Maria Eliana Mery by a vote of 29,990-21,165.

The election in O'Higgins and Colchagua provinces was for the seat of an opposition senator who was killed in an automobile accident last year, and the seat in Linares had been held by a Nationalist who moved to Australia after Allende was elected in September 1970. Neither election changed the balance in Congress, where the opposition already has a majority in both houses.

Allende termed the elections "extraordinarily important," and his government put on an expensive campaign for Olivares, a former official of the copper mining union, and Mrs. Mery, sister of a leftist hero who was clubbed to death in the expropriation of a farm in 1969. Cabinet ministers and other officials toured the provinces. Brigades of Communist and Socialist youth and members of the extremist Revolutionary Left Movement were mobilized to elector and plaster walls and buildings with posters.

The Interior Ministry said the balloting took place in "complete tranquility." Troops with machine guns and automatic

Says Official Asked for Loan Life Conviction Upheld by Court

NEW YORK (AP)—Clifford Irving, author of a purported autobiography of Howard Hughes, quotes the billionaire recluse as saying that former Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford asked him for a $205,000 loan for Richard M. Nixon's brother.

Clifford, who served in the Johnson administration, denied any connection with the deal. "It is a complete fabrication," he said when contacted Sunday at his Washington home.

"There is not one iota of truth in that statement. It had to be made up out of whole cloth."

Noah Detrich, a former Hughes aide, said in California that the loan, which was reported in 1960, was made but that company lawyer handled it and Clifford had no knowledge of it.

Irving declined in a television interview Sunday to say what Hughes got in return for the 1956 loan. But he said the "quid pro quo" is described in his soon-to-be published book which he claims to have put together out of a series of interviews with Hughes.

The Dayton (Ohio) Journal Herald today quoted San Francisco attorney Melvin Belli as saying that the loan was a payoff for Richard Nixon's supposed effort to obtain the St. Louis-to-New Orleans route and other favors for Trans World Airlines, then owned by Hughes.

The loan figured in Nixon's unsuccessful 1960 presidential campaign. Both Nixon and his brother, Donald, have denied that Hughes obtained any favors as a result of the loan.

Irving's book has been a subject of controversy since it was announced on Dec. 7. The voice of a man claiming to be Hughes said in a recent long-distance telephone news conference that he did not know Irving and denounced the book as a hoax.

Newsmen at the conference said they were convinced that the voice was that of Hughes. Irving says it was not Hughes' voice because the man had too many memory lapses and talked longer than Hughes can without a break.

Irving talked about the loan during an interview with Mike Wallace on the CBS television "60 Minutes" program.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Supreme Court unanimously upheld today the first-degree murder conviction and life sentence given Billy Ray Davis, 17, of Little Rock in the beating death of a man near Barton Coliseum here last March.

The ruling affirmed the verdict reached before Circuit Court Judge Richard B. Adkisson of Little Rock in the death of Kenneth Pederson, who was struck in the head with a nine-pound hickory post while leaving a basketball game he had attended at the coliseum.

In the opinion by Associate Justice Lyle Brown, the Supreme Court rejected Davis' contention that there was no evidence of premeditation and that Adkisson erred in refusing to grant a continuance because of newspaper publicity about the incident.

The court also upheld a ruling by Special Judge James R. Howard of Little Rock when he dismissed charges of keeping a gambling house that had been filed against Mary Joe Dimler, Kela Mae Nolen and Jimmy Bennett Walthall.

Pros. Atty. James Guy Tucker Jr. filed the charge on April 8, 1971 against the three that they had conducted a gambling house on March 20. On May 4, another charge alleged the same offense but said that it occurred on March 5 and 6. A third charge was filed on May 11 differing from the first two by naming the persons from whom best allegedly were taken.

When the three were brought to trial on May 11, the state moved to dismiss the charge alleging the offense took place on March 20 and the court granted the motion.

Then, on June 25, the case involving the third charge was called for trial and the defendants alleged that they could not be tried because they had already been acquitted through the dismissal of the earlier charge. Howard agreed and so did the Supreme Court.

The court also affirmed the second-degree murder conviction and 15-year prison sentence given Undra Furlow in the pistol slaying of Curtis Lumsey, who allegedly was slain after a dispute with Furlow in a Union County tavern.

Plans to Mine Manganese

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Hughes Tool Co. says it plans to mine manganese from the ocean floor at depths of 12,000 to 18,000 feet.

Paul Reeve, manager of mining research for the company, said as he helped launch a 324-foot barge that will be used in the mining: "I can say very little about this because of the proprietary nature of the operation."

Reeve refused to disclose the location of the venture other than to say it is "somewhere in the Pacific."

Tucker said he found a backlog of 1,200 criminal cases when he took office a year ago and he said court procedures must be streamlined if justice is to be served.

Tucker said that in addition to the long time it takes to bring a defendant to trial, the appeal process can take additional year to complete. He said that under the present system, some judges are overworked and some underworked. He said a court management system to spread criminal cases among the state's circuit judges should be established.

MRS. JAMES D. BURKE

Miss Tina Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Martin, became the bride of James Daryl Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hoyt Burke, at the First Baptist Church on Friday, January 7 at 7 p.m. The Rev. Ralph Burke of Dallas, uncle of the groom, and the Rev. Gerald Trussell, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring ceremony in a setting of candlelight and greenery.

Miss Jill Herring, cousin of the bride, and Bruce McRae, lighted the candles, and Luther Hollamon, organist, played a program of pre-nuptial music. He also accompanied the soloist, Miss Becky Ward, as she sang "More" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" at its conclusion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of exclusive design with Venice lace over angel mist. The Empire bouffant silhouette had a lace bodice, a Sabrina neckline and Camelot sleeves with covered buttons. Her mantilla of Venice lace studded with pearls was secured to a veil of English silk illusion edged in Venice lace. The bridal train was chapel length, and her only jewelry was a diamond heart-shaped pendant, a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis centered with a fuchsia-throated white orchid.

Miss Jan Herring, cousin of the bride, was her maid of honor, and Miss Gail Burke, sister of the groom, and Miss Lamar Cox were the bridesmaids. They all wore floor-length gowns of burgundy velvet and pink chiffon fashioned with an A-line skirt, a scooped neckline and bishop sleeves. Each carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and burgundy velvet ribbon.

Little Miss Robyn Burke, sister of the groom, was the flower girl, and Master Gil Burke, cousin of the groom, was the ring bearer.

James Hoyt Burke served his son as best man.

Groomsmen were Calvin Willis, cousin of the groom, and Terry Beard. Ushers were L.H. Shelton, Jr. of Beaumont, Tex., cousin of the bride, Justin Caldwell, Jimmy Armstrong and Bruce McRae.

After a nine day visit Lydia will fly back to school on Sunday the 16th.

For the wedding Mrs. Martin, mother of the bride, wore avocado green lace and chiffon with matching accessories and a green cymbidium orchid. Mrs. Burke, mother of the groom, was attired in a blue coat dress with matching accessories and a white cymbidium orchid.

A reception followed in the fellowship hall of the church with James Morrow receiving the guests at the door. Members of the wedding party and the parents of the wedding couple were introduced to those attending. Mrs. Phinis Herring, aunt of the bride, presided over the bride's book that was placed on a table with the bride's bouquet and a single pink candle in silver.

Drinking fruit juice helps to disperse crystallization in the kidneys

NEW YORK (AP) — After the Superbowl and the sudden-death victory by Jack Nicklaus in the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament, the rest of the Sunday night television schedule had to be anticlimactic.

CBS's "The Funny Papers," had Raquel Welch in a blonde wig crying "leaping lizards" and Carroll O'Connor playing Daddy Warbucks. Altogether it was a short, ill-conceived bore.

NBC's "The Mysterious Spring: Africa's Mzima" was shot in Kenya at a watering hole attracting everything from hippos to snakes. There were some unusual closeups of beasts and birds and the usual lecture on ecology and the chain of life.

A quartet of new series moved into position over the weekend.

On Saturday there was a two-hour pilot of "Emergency," which NBC will bring in next Saturday as a one-hour show. This Jack Webb product is about a paramedic team working through the Los Angeles Fire Department. It was, in the pilot, a long series of accident cases shown in closeup followed by treatment.

Viewers conditioned to the evening doctor shows and daytime soap opera may find it fascinating. Webb treated the pilot as a vehicle to plug paramedical teams. This was a worthy cause, no doubt, but soap-boxes fit awkwardly into action shows. And even action shows must be discreet in showing blood, gore and death if the viewer is expected to keep coming around. This show had casualties that started with an electrocution and ended with a tunnel cave-in. The accident scenes were painfully realistic; the characters were like cardboard figures.

"The Sixth Sense" on ABC Saturday is dedicated to the theory that there is something to extrasensory perception. In the initial program, a professor of parapsychology and his friends kept glimpsing a ghostly figure. It turned out to be the mind of a prisoner of war in Vietnam who wanted to find a way to escape from his Communist captors. It was not a bore and far-fetched, it was a little on the shoddy side.

The kindest way to comment on NBC's "Sanford and Son," which had its premiere Friday, is to say that it is not even a pale carbon copy of "All in the Family," made by the same producers.

MABEL PITTMAN

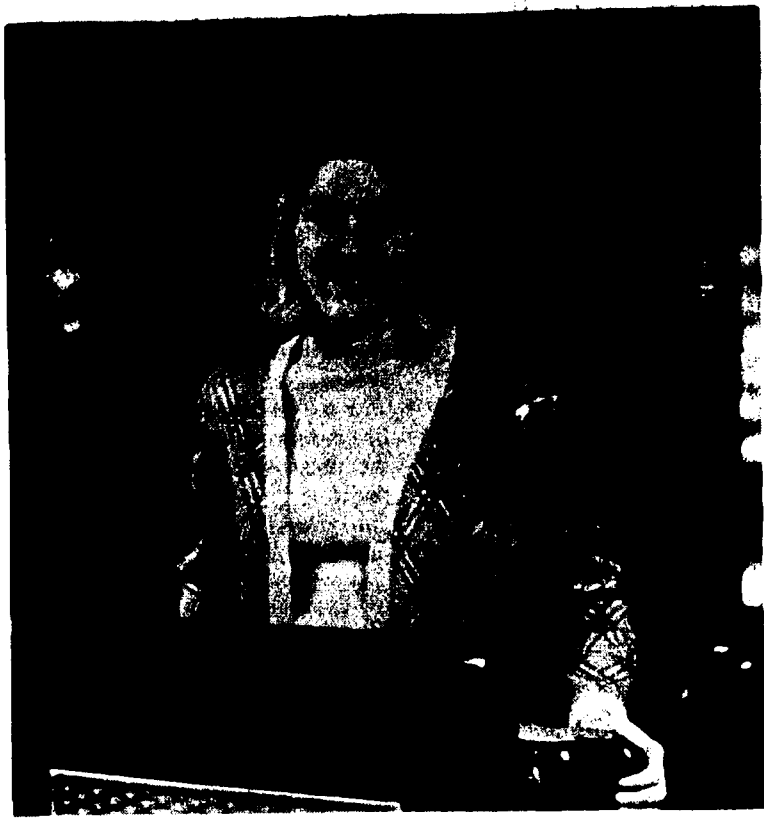

The Arkansas B & PW Clubs' Southwest District Director, Mabel Pittman of Magnolia, spoke to the Hope B & PW Club on Thursday January 13 at a dinner meeting in the Diamond. She explained her function as being the link between local and state divisions of the organization, and she discussed the Federation of B & PW Clubs from the standpoints of membership, by-laws and parliamentary procedure.

In a patriotic setting of red, white and blue and clad in the same colors, a trio, Donna Smith, Velora Bright and Majorie Rogers, accompanied by Evva Reynerson at the piano, sang a George M. Cohan medley, "You're a Grand Old Flag," "Give My Regards to Broadway" and "Yankee Doodle Dandy." To conclude the music all joined in singing "This is My Country."

During a business meeting President Dee McMurrough was in charge and welcomed the 30 in attendance, including the speaker, Mrs. Rita Bennett of Magnolia and Mrs. Eathel Thompson. Arrangements for the meeting were made by the Legislation Committee, Margaret Park, Ora Mae Moody, Nina Anthony and Norma Jean Delaney.

Nicklaus Wins Playoff

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — "It's nice to win a tournament when you don't play that well. It's nice to know that other people can make mistakes, too."

Jack Nicklaus was talking about his less-than-spectacular playoff victory over young Johnny Miller Sunday in the $140,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am golf tournament.

Nicklaus, who now has won five of his last six starts and is threatening a dominance of the game unmatched in history, sank an 18-foot birdie putt on the first playoff hole for a $38,000 check in his first start of the year.

The victory by the Golden Bear left opposing players, officials and observers shaking their heads and wondering aloud: "How do you beat him if you can't do it when he's playing bad?"

Nicklaus had a brilliant 66 on the opening round, but didn't break 70 again. On the final round he missed six times from six feet or less, including a three-footer before a national television audience on the 17th hole. It led to a bogey that set up the second playoff in as many weeks.

"The last four tournaments I won were legitimate wins," Nicklaus said. "I was in front four to seven strokes all the way. This was different. It was like everyone was saying, 'Well, who wants to win it now?'"

Frazier Talks to Foreman About Fight

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Heavyweight champion Joe Frazier accepted congratulations from the man and told him, "I hope to see you soon big fellow." The man was George Foreman. The meeting would be in the ring.

"He's okay. He wants to fight again in a couple of months," manager Yank Durham said Sunday after Frazier knocked down Terry Daniels five times and stopped him in the fourth round Saturday night in his first fight since he outpointed Muhammad Ali last March 8.

"I'd like to fight again in maybe a month or two," said Frazier. "I don't like to hide the championship. I don't like to smother it."

Frazier did not mention a specific opponent for his next title defense but he always mentioned the unbeaten Foreman when the subject of future opponents arose during the week preceding the Daniels fight. Foreman has not called publicly for a fight with Frazier.

But Frazier has made it clear he is not in any hurry for a rematch with Ali, whom Frazier usually calls "Clay."

Ali has contended that he really beat Frazier and put him into the hospital, and although Frazier said this did not bother him, he also said, "I feel Clay is gonna have to respect me more because I don't need him."

Frazier, 28, who did have high blood pressure after the Ali fight, appeared in good condition Saturday night although he did weigh the heaviest of his career at 215½. His previous high was 209 each for Marion Connors and Jimmy Ellis.

Frazier said he felt he fought at 90 per cent of peak performance but it would be hard to convince Daniels that the champion could be better.

"Even his punches that miss hurt," said the 25-year-old Dallas resident who weighed 191½ and just couldn't match Fraon the same Pebble Beach Golf Links, agreed.

"I just played terrible," said the Billy Casper protégé. "Everyone was just laying down and playing dead. Jack told me on the 12th hole that I was still leading and I just couldn't believe it."

Nicklaus shot a final-round 73, one over par on the course that will be the site of this year's United States Open. Miller, the third-round leader, had a 74. They tied at the end of the regulation 72 holes at 284.

"I tried. That's all I can do," said Miller, who scored his first tour victory last year and won some $91,000. Second place was worth $16,000.

Lee Trevino was alone in third at 73 for 286. Fred Marti, 71, and Australian Bruce Crampton, 73, tied at 287. The group at 288 included England's Tony Jacklin, who had a pair of sevens enroute to a final 77, Big George Archer, Dan Sikes, and Bob Murphy, who holed a three-wood shot for a rare double eagle on the second hole of the final round.

Trevino, Jacklin and Herb Hooper, who finished with a 77, all made runs at the leaders in the warm sunshine, but all knocked themselves out of it.

Dolphins Admit to Being Embarrassed

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Severe critics of the Dallas Cowboys branded them "losers" and "chokers" after the Texans kicked away Super Bowl V a year ago.

Bob Griese and the Miami Dolphins hope for a kinder fate. "Dallas was never a loser, but they took the rap," said the Miami quarterback. "The Cowboys kept winning 10 or 12 games a year and then were kicked around for losing the Super Bowl."

The grim, disappointed quarterback added, "The Cowboys were not losers and neither are the Dolphins."

Funny. The Miami clan looked—and sounded—exactly like losers Sunday after being horseshipped in Super Bowl VI by Dallas, a team that finally won the big one.

"They demolished us," said Coach Don Shula. "They embarrassed us," said cornerback Tim Foley. "They ran it down our throats," said defensive end Bill Stanfill.

"They came to win," said running back Mercury Morris, "and we came to play."

Gophers Put on Show for Their Fans

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
While the hometown crowd roared in delight, the Minnesota Gophers went through their flashy, pregame show.

It pleased everybody but the Northwestern Wildcats.

"We were intimidated before the opening tipoff," snapped Northwestern Coach Brad Snyder. "I'm sure never going to let my players look at it again."

After the warmup, a la Harlem Globetrotters, the Wildcats also saw something they wouldn't want to see again—Minnesota's sledgehammer offense. It resulted in an 84-60 Gopher triumph Saturday night.

"We wanted to slow them down to see how they'd react," said a still-sizzling Snyder after the game.

It didn't work. The Gophers took a 5-0 lead and that was all for Northwestern's semifreeze.

There were few surprises among the nation's Top 10 teams over the weekend, although the second 10 was riddled by losses.

UCLA, the country's No. 1 club, stormed by California 82-43; second-ranked Marquette edged Detroit 68-66; No. 3 North Carolina defeated No. 8 Virginia 85-79; No. 5 Louisville topped Bradley 75-71; seventh-ranked Long Beach State trimmed UC-Stanta Barbara 75-57; ninth-rated Ohio State whipped Michigan 84-73 and No. 10 Southern California downed Stanford 65-43.

Among the Second 10, Florida upset No. 15 Kentucky, 72-70; Purdue turned back No. 16 Illinois 85-74; Wisconsin trimmed No. 17 Indiana 66-64 and Oklahoma beat No. 18 Missouri 78-77.

Villanova, No. 11, defeated Xavier, Ohio 65-60; No. 12 Florida State defeated Houston 86-79; No. 13 Southwestern Louisiana walloped West Texas State 134-94; No. 14 Brigham Young whipped Utah 67-61; No. 19 Hawaii nipped Portland 90-87 and No. 20 Marshall overwhelmed Morris Harvey 88-69.

Minnesota put its match away in the early stages, leading 31-8 late in the first half and 43-20 at the intermission. The victory moved the Gophers into a first-place tie with Ohio State for the Big Ten lead.

The Marquette victory wasn't as easy. The Warriors needed Allie McGuire's eight-foot jump shot with five seconds left to nail down its 12th straight.

"Our heads are out of proportion to our game," said Coach Al McGuire, father of the hero. "It would take about 15 people to carry our heads out of the arena."

McGuire called the close call "a bad game, just a bad game."

But Jim Harding, the Detroit coach, thought that his team had something to do with the near-upset.

"I don't know if they had a bad game, or if we made them have one," said Harding. "Our defense has been this good all season."

"Detroit has arrived," said the first period, and Jack Marin's tip-in with nine seconds remaining keyed Baltimore's victory over Phoenix. Dick Van Arsdale topped the Suns with 25 points.

Dave DeBusschere's 15-foot jumper with 26 seconds left enabled New York to squeeze past Houston and break a five-game losing streak. Walt Frazier collected 31 points for the Knicks, while Elvin Hayes scored 24 points and grabbed 21 rebounds for the Rockets.

Nate Archibald erupted for 41 points and had 16 assists in leading Cincinnati past Cleveland. John Johnson and Walt Wesley each tallied 24 points for the Cavaliers.

In the NBA Saturday night, it was: Philadelphia 131, Detroit 121; Chicago 120, Portland 100; Boston 122, Atlanta 106; Houston 112, Cleveland 109; Golden State 105, Baltimore 95, and Seattle 118, Phoenix 110.

Pistol Pete Explodes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Pistol finally popped. Pistol Pete Maravich, held back by a siege of mononucleosis this season, exploded for his National Basketball Association career high Sunday night, firing in 50 points and triggering the Atlanta Hawks to a 124-116 victory over the Philadelphia 76ers.

Maravich, who set an all-time NCAA career scoring record while a collegian at Louisiana State, hit with deadly accuracy against the 76ers. He was on target on 18 of 29 field goal attempts and 14 of 16 free throws. He also was credited with six assists.

Maravich's previous career high was 44 points in his rookie season last year. This season, he missed the first 14 games because of mononucleosis, and his best game was a 32-pointer. His collegiate high was 69 against Alabama in 1970.

Staubach Leads Dallas to Super Bowl Victory

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Four times Miami called the Commander-in-Chief's play—and four times Dallas was there to put it out of commission.

But Roger Staubach, a Navy ensign in Vietnam when the Cowboys were earning a reputation of losing the big ones, performed flawlessly as a field general Sunday in Tulane Stadium and got them that big one, a 24-3 victory over the Dolphins in Super Bowl VI.

"People said we were an unemotional team, that we couldn't win the big ones," the 29-year-old quarterback said after he paced for a pair of touchdowns and directed an offense which riddled the young Miami defense for 352 yards. "I think the team proved it is a very emotional team—a great team."

Staubach was the most obvious here of many heroes in the National Football League championship, played before a sellout crowd of 81,023 fans who shivered through the windy, mid-30 degree day.

Running backs Duane Thomas and Walt Garrison and passcatchers Lance Alworth and Mike Ditka also shared the spotlight—but it was a gang of grizzled bandits—Mel Renfro, Herb Adderley, Cornell Green, Chuck Howley and the rest of the Dooomsday Defense—that demolished the Dolphins' dreams.

Miami's hope had been that wide receiver Paul Warfield, with a little bit of help from President Nixon and a lot from Bob Griese, would be able to shake loose and haul in the long bombs for touchdowns that had brought them the American Conference crown.

But from the outset, it was obvious that the Cowboys, who won their last seven National Conference contests, then shut down Minnesota and San Francisco to once again reach the summit, were ready for the bomb—and anything else Miami could throw against them.

The Frogs pulled away shortly before the half.

Two field goals by Rymer had given the Razorbacks a 36-33 lead before two baskets by Herb Stephens gave the Frogs a 41-38 advantage. TCU led 45-38 at the half and then made it 49-38 on a basket by DeGrate and one by Jim Ferguson.

Arkansas Coach Lanny Van Eman said the game got away from the Razorbacks shortly before halftime.

"We either got very tired or broke down fundamentally during that spell," Van Eman said. "They really hurt us then with their second effort."

Tex Schramm, president and general manager of the 12-year-old club which has so long sought a championship, said Sunday after Dallas' 24-3 victory over Miami: "We'll be back. This was just a start. We'll be even stronger in the next six years."

"They can't say we don't win the big one anymore. I don't know which big one is left. I am looking forward to a dynasty like the New York Yankees and the Boston Celtics."

Dallas' immediate problems include an aging set of linebackers, injury-prone running back Calvin Hill and mysterious Duane Thomas, who kept management in a quandry much of the season.

Outside linebacker Chuck Howley, who intercepted one pass and recovered a fumble, is 35. Middle linebacker Lee Roy Jordan is 31 and Dave Edwards, the other outside linebacker, is 33.

Also, cornerback Herb Adderley is 33 and all-pro defensive tackle Bob Lilly is 32.

"We'll take a hard look at getting some running backs and linebackers either by trade or in the draft," said club vice president Gil Brandt.

Craig Morton, who was relegated to the bench after the seventh game of the season, also has hinted he may ask to be traded.

Howley said he believes Dallas, which lost in the Super Bowl last year, has become the complete team.

"I think that we have the makings of a dynasty, if you want to call it that, because we have confidence in our abilities and we are strong at all positions."

Brown said he told Thomas to play football this year because "by playing football it would disprove all those things manufactured against him. He's the most gifted runner in football."

Dallas 24-yard line, Griese fired to Warfield near the goal line, but Adderley was there too, leaping and tipping the ball just enough. So Miami had to settle for what turned out to be their only score, Garo Yepremian's 31-yard field goal.

And with time running out and the outcome a certainty, Griese fumbled away the Dolphins' last chance on the Cowboys' 20.

"Dallas demolished us," Coach Don Shula muttered in the tomb that was the Miami dressing room. "We never got untracked. My biggest disappointment is that we never challenged them, never took the fight to them ... they tore us apart on defense and completely controlled our offense."

The Cowboys were, indeed, master of control when they had the ball as well, marching with it for nearly 41 of the 60 minutes it took to shake the losers' image they had been saddled with in their 1966 and 1967 championship losses to Green Bay and their 16-13 setback at the hands of the Baltimore Colts a year ago.

Staubach, Dallas' "fourth running back" because of his scrambling that netted 343 regular-season yards, was forced to run for his life only rarely.

The rest of the time, with an unshakable wall of protection in front of him, Staubach, calling the plays that Coach Tom Landry shuttled in, gazed at the gaps in the Miami defense and sliced it apart with completions on 12-of-18 for 119 yards, including scoring strikes of seven yards each to Alworth and Ditka.

But most of the time he spent the afternoon handing the ball to the real runners, primarily Duane Thomas, who barreled for 95 yards and a three-yard touchdown and Walt Garrison, who finished with 74.

"Our game plan was to go out and start passing early to keep them opened up and then hit with our runners. It worked perfectly," said Staubach, winner in 1963 of the Heisman Trophy—symbolic of collegiate football's best player—and winner on Sunday of an automobile as Super Bowl VI's most valuable player.

The passing, particularly an 18-yarder to Bob Hayes, set up Dallas' first score. A nine-yard Mike Clark field goal climaxed an 11-play, 50-yard drive which began when Csonka, who had not fumbled in 235 regular-season and playoff carries, fumbled, with Howley recovering.

Then the Cowboys hit with their running, Thomas gaining 21 and Calvin Hill 25 in an 11-play, 76-yard march that made it 10-0 in the second quarter as Alworth snared Staubach's pass and twisted into the corner of the end zone.

After Yepremian's field goal in the dying seconds of the half gave the handkerchief-waving Dolphin fans their only real chance to holler, the Dallas ground game put it away, Thomas running for 37 yards in a 71-yard third-period march that made it 17-3.

Then came the crusher—Howley's midfield interception and 41-yard runback to the Miami nine which, three plays later, had Staubach hitting a wide-open Ditka for the final score.

taking away the inside," Warfield said of the Dallas secondary, "and they did it. I just couldn't shake loose."

Virtually every time Warfield burst off the line of scrimmage or out of the backfield, he found Cowboys swarming around him, soaring high or diving low to slap away potential long gainers. "They showed me more than I expected," he sighed.

The president's play, a simple down-and-in pass pattern, was exactly what Dallas was expecting, and was ready to foil every time.

The first time the Cowboys saw it coming, they blitzed Griese, and the Miami quarterback, unable to take the time to look for Warfield, had to throw a safety valve pass to Jim Kikick that gained six yards—and left them with fourth down and forced a punt.

The next time it came, Green came out of nowhere with a headlong dive and fingertip deflection.

Then it was Bob Lilly and the front four again, storming in on Griese and forcing him to throw out of the reach of his wide receiver.

And, finally, with a variation on the play—Warfield in motion before heading into Texas territory, it was Renfro coming up to bat down the pass.

"I think he was a little leery coming in there after a while," Renfro said. "I'm relieved, more than anything, there was an awful lot of pressure on us. I've had something in the pit of my stomach all week."

In all, Warfield was held to just four catches for 39 yards and Griese, all but limited to throwing to his backs and tight ends, managed to complete 12-of-23 passes for only 134 yards.

And with Lilly, the murderous right tackle, and the rest of the front four controlling the in-fighting, the highly touted Miami ground game was even less effective as Kikick and Larry Csonka were held to 40 yards apiece.

Only twice did Miami even threaten to score. The first time with the Dolphins on the pass and recovered a fumble, is 35. Middle linebacker Lee Roy Jordan is 31 and Dave Edwards, the other outside linebacker, is 33.

Also, cornerback Herb Adderley is 33 and all-pro defensive tackle Bob Lilly is 32.

"We'll take a hard look at getting some running backs and linebackers either by trade or in the draft," said club vice president Gil Brandt.

Ashdown Takes Pair From Hope Teams

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Hope's Junior and Senior boys basketball teams have been suffering more than their share of losses lately, and last Friday night was no exception as the Ashdown Panthers and Panther Cubs each put another notch to the Hope loss columns.

In the first game, the Bobkittens lost an early lead and were narrowly defeated in one overtime, 40-37, while the Bobcats, in the second contest, fell behind at the very start of the game, and never could catch up as they were belted, 77-60.

Tonight, the B-Bruins and the Ladycats host the Willisville Lions and Lionettes in two contests, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

At 6:30 p.m. the junior game got underway with Ashdown taking the tipoff and scoring first, but for the next few minutes after that it was all Hope as Marshall Scott and Mike Hobson combined for eight of nine points on field goals as the Kittens took a 9-2 margin before Ashdown called time to talk things over. The quarter later ended with Hope out in front, 9-5.

However, the Kittens hit scoring problems and could only manage six points while giving up 10 in the second period to settle for a 15 all tie at halftime.

During the third period the score saw-sawed back and forth most of the time, although the Kittens did at one time get a four point lead. Two last second free throws left Hope trailing by one at the outset of the final period, 27-26.

All during the fourth stanza, Hope held on while, at times, gaining the lead for short periods of play. With 1:45 left to go in the game, Ashdown hit a three point lead and appeared to have it won until Mike Hobson layed one through the hoop with 18 seconds left and converted a free shot that had been called to knot the score at 35 all at the end of regulation play.

Now into the overtime, Hope took the tipoff but could only score once during the two minute period, while allowing Ashdown five free throws to put the game away. Hobson led the scoring with 13 points, followed by Robinson with nine, Scott with six, and Williams and Harris getting four each.

In the second game, the Bobcats quickly fell to a 5-0 deficit, before Larry Morrison could hit two points with 3:56 to go in the period, but then watched as Ashdown leaved the score and moved into the second period with a commanding 20-9 lead.

Although Hope took the second quarter tipoff, the Panthers were still the ones that were scoring the most. Using outside shots by Buddy Ingram, Bruce Joyce, and Morrison, and the free throws by Bill Rowland and Jimmy Smith, Hope was able to keep the pace for most of the second period, but when halftime rolled around, the Cats found themselves down by a 21 point spread, 46-25.

Back out in the second half of play the Cats lost another point to Ashdown as they fell behind by 22 points while moving into the final quarter, 65-43. Shooting by Morrison and Ingram kept the Bobcats close as they played the Panthers on even terms during the second half of play.

Hope actually won the fourth period of play as they outscored Ashdown, 17-12, in the quarter, to narrow the margin of the loss to the final 17 points. Down at one time during the period by 26 points, Hope used the ball stealing and quick breaks by Joyce, Gary Rhodes, and Bud Martin and a beautiful midair tipin by Steve Harris to pull back up and outplay the Panther five in the final stanza.

Joyce led all Hope scorers with 16 points, followed closely by Morrison with 15, Ingram getting 10, Rhodes hitting five, and Briggs and Smith sinking four each.

Staubach Beseiged by His Admirers

By JERRY ESTILL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Roger Staubach was seen late Sunday afternoon walking down the middle of a New Orleans street, still beseiged by adoring fans six blocks from the stadium where he directed the Dallas Cowboys to a 24-3 Super Bowl victory over Miami.

The unlikely scene pricked the interest of a neighborhood woman working her yard. Someone told her who Staubach was and she found it hard to believe.

"What's the No. 1 quarterback of the world champions doing walking down the street?" she asked. "Why is the world champion quarterback walking?"

Staubach was something of an uncommon hero, but he won't be walking long. He receives the keys to a 1972 auto today for being named most valuable player in Super Bowl VI.

But the uncommon nature of Staubach, the nation's newest football hero, was only accentuated by his unusual departure.

How many football stars are serenaded with "Anchors Aweigh" when they leave a victorious dressing room?

How many college graduates lay off football for four years and still make it to the pinnacle of the sport?

And how many of the so-called experts gave Staubach—a scrambler and in his first attempts with Dallas—much of a chance to make it to the top as a professional quarterback.

But there was no doubt Staubach was on top after the nearly flawless performance against Miami which added up to 12-of-19 pass completions for 119 yards and two touchdowns. He added 18 yards running.

"As an individual, I think I'm a good quarterback," he said. "But I just happen to be on a great football team. I think there are quite a few quarterbacks who could look good with this team."

Staubach, who spent four years in the Navy—part of it in Vietnam—after winning the Heisman Trophy at the Naval Academy, was patient and gracious as newsmen surrounded him and peppered him with questions for an hour after the game.

Someone kept reminding him that his family was waiting outside, but Staubach dressed slowly, a sock here, a question there, a shoe here and answered every question.

Finally, when he made it out into the brisk dusk air, there was just time for a quick hug from his pretty blonde wife and another from his mother before the fans surrounded him.

Staubach, the veteran, reached vainly to shake the hands of two sailors in uniform, but the autograph seekers were too quick and surged in between them.

The good-natured crowd forced Staubach's wife and widowed mother to walk well ahead of him to avoid the crush.

It was the full hero treatment and the hero's wife seemed a bit taken back by the whole thing, looking somewhat bewildered and admitting, "It's never been like this before."

SILVAM SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas at Little Rock scored its fifth straight victory Saturday night, whipping John Brown University 92-80.

Donnie Matlock led the winners with 28 points. The Trojans led by four points at the half, but broke the game open midway through the second half.

Tech Takes Second Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas Tech emerged the victor in a three-way fight for second place last week in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference.

Tech, Henderson and AM&N began the week tied for second place behind Ouachita Baptist University, who still remains in the top slot with a 7-0 conference record and 12-1 in the season.

Earlier in the week Tech sped past Hendrix, 96-76, as David Combs, the AIC's top scorer, connected to score 26 points in the game. Thursday night Tech defeated Henderson 108-89.

AM&N was knocked out by No. 1 Ouachita 102-76 last Monday night.

Tonight Ouachita is at Ozarks, Arkansas Tech travels to Southern State, Arkansas College faces UA Monticello and Harding is at Henderson.

Thursday Ozarks is at State College, Henderson is at Southern State, Ouachita is at Arkansas College, Hendrix is at UA Monticello.

Only one game is set for Friday — Arkansas AM&N is at Arkansas Tech.

Plays for Henderson

Debbie Owens, Hope, will be the manager of the Henderson State College Women's Basketball team this year. The Reddies will play a six game schedule this season and participate in the State Intercollegiate Basketball tournament. Their first game is January 18 against Southern State College. The first home game for the Reddies is February 1 against Southern State College.

Tournament of Champions

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Champions of the four state school basketball tournaments and one other team will meet in a Tournament of Champions, probably March 16-18.

The proposal calling for the tournament to determine a true state champion was approved by members of the Arkansas Activities Association by a "pretty substantial" margin.

Each of the five classifications — B, A, AA, AAA and

Heart Surgery Can Give Relief

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb—I've read tons of literature on coronary heart disease, but not much can be found about the surgery.

Last fall, my husband received two grafts on the left side of the heart from the saphenous vein in his leg. Recent tests show one graft is supplying a lot of blood, and he is doing very well. The other collapsed. He did not receive the mammary artery implant. Can you make any comments on the surgery?

Dear Reader—It is great that your husband is doing so well. Many patients have obtained relief from this operation. The principle is to cut out the clogged area in the artery to the heart and sew in a piece of the patient's vein as a replacement. There are variations on this, like slitting the artery and sewing a patch of vein on top of the split to enlarge the opening. This provides an immediate relief to the symptoms of obstructed blood flow.

Even improving the blood flow through one artery often helps, because the main arteries to the heart are all connected into a fine-branching network of arteries. These can open to detour the blood so that most of the heart muscle can get blood through one artery if these detour arteries are open. Some people are born with only one artery.

It is too early to know just how successful this type of surgery will be on a long-term basis. It takes time and study to find out if the new graft will stay open. Some studies show that in some patients the graft also develops atherosclerosis, the same changes that blocked the artery originally and then the difficulty is back. A similar problem has been observed in transplanted hearts. The arteries to the transplanted heart develop severe atherosclerosis in a short time. Apparently the rejection problem or allergic reaction to the new heart can also cause atherosclerosis. There are many ways atherosclerosis can be influenced—diet, exercise, heredity, tobacco, toxins and even the allergiclike immune reactions seen in transplant failures. Hopefully this problem will be minimized in vein trans-

Oswald: West can beat the contract if he hops up with his queen of clubs. A suspicious expert might just make the play on the theory that South had to have some unusual reason to lead a club at trick two, but most players would follow with the seven.

Jim: "After that play South would waltz home. He would rise with dummy's ace; draw trumps; cash dummy's king of hearts to discard one club; ruff a heart; cash three diamonds and lead another low club. West would be in with the queen and be forced to give South a ruff and discard."

Hotel Fire Leaves 4 Dead

By DAVID S. DILLON
Associated Press Writer
TYRONE, Pa. (AP) — Four persons are known dead and 10 others are missing in the aftermath of an explosion and fire that destroyed the old Pennsylvania Hotel in this central Pennsylvania community.

Temperatures below zero hampered firemen as they fought to control the blaze Sunday. Because of the weather, Fire Chief Robert M. Wilson delayed efforts to recover the bodies of the victims until today.

"They're dead, we know that," Wilson said of the missing. It's a problem now of finding them."

Firemen located the bodies of the first four known victims Sunday afternoon, but heavy ice buildups prevented their identification and removal.

Mayor James W. Hoover said the figure of 10 missing in addition to the four bodies sighted Sunday was based on accounts from two hotel employees.

"The owner is one of those missing and we can't find the registry," Hoover said. "This is the big problem we're having in figuring out how many people were in there."

Proprietor Dominick Turlano, his wife Joan and their five children all are missing, Hoover said. The children ranged in age from 14 years to 7 months.

James W. Peters, a hotel employee who escaped the blaze, said an explosion shook the four-story structure just before the fire, and Wilson said the blast may have been centered around an oil-fed furnace in the basement.

Thirty-one firemen and two other persons were treated for frostbite and smoke inhalation during the blaze, authorities said.

Wilson said the temperature was -10 when he reached the scene and that initially fire hydrants froze almost as quickly as they were opened.

"It took us 45 minutes just to get the water flowing," Hoover said.

British Expedition Starts Tough Part

PANAMA (AP) — A British army expedition aiming to reach the tip of South America over the Pan American Highway starts out Tuesday on the toughest part of its journey.

With two Range Rovers, 35 pack horses, 50 men and 5 women, the team will attempt to make the first wheeled crossing of the Darien Gap into Colombia—a 250-mile journey through jungles, swamps and mountains.

The Darien Gap is a planned part of the Pan American Highway.

There is little likelihood that the motor vehicles will outdistance the horses. Leaders say the terrain is so tough that the expedition is not expected to advance more than three miles a day.

Of the women in the expedition, all civilians, three will remain behind doing liaison work and the other two will trek through the jungle with the rest of the group to do secretarial work for the scientists.

In command is Maj. John Blashford-Snell of the Royal Engineers.

At 34 he is an experienced explorer who has participated in 10 previous expeditions, including the first descent and exploration of the Blue Nile in Ethiopia.

Leading the motorized group is Capt. Gavin Thompson.

About 40 members of the expedition are British military personnel who are contributing a fourth of their monthly pay to help defray costs of the exploration. The others are civilian scientists, geographers, geologists, sociologists, zoologists, ornithologists, entomologists, medical doctors and archaeologists.

The scientists plan to collect data before the ecology of the area is disturbed by construction of the Darien Highway, about to begin. The road, financed by the United States, Panama and Colombia, is expected to be finished in about five years.

The two Range Rovers, motorized vehicles, are equipped with special swamp tires and flotation gear to cope with the gruelling terrain. At least four large rivers will be crossed by the expedition.

The Rovers, which started out Dec. 3 from Anchorage, Alaska, arrived in Panama last Tuesday. The rest of the expedition came in Thursday by Royal Air Force plane.

The expedition is assembling at the Panama national guard's training center east of Panama City. Early Tuesday it will cross the Bayano River to enter the jungle. Along the way, the expedition will be supplied by parachute, helicopter and boat and will keep radio contact with its rear base.

The crossing of the Darien Gap is expected to take until the end of March. Once the Colombian side is reached, the crews will drive south on the final leg to Tierra del Fuego, at the tip of the continent, to complete the 14,000-mile journey.

Israel Seeks Guerrillas

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli security men combed a refugee camp in the Gaza Strip today for the Arab guerrillas who killed an American nurse and wounded an American missionary and his daughter in an ambush in the camp.

The dead woman was Mavis Pate, 46, of Ringgold, La. The Rev. Edward Nicholas, 49, of Austin, Tex., was shot in the thigh and stomach, and his 17-year-old daughter, Carol, was cut by flying glass.

Nicholas was pastor and business manager at the Baptist Hospital in the Gaza Strip, which Israel occupied in the 1967 war, and Miss Pate was a nurse there. The pastor was taken to a hospital in Beer-sheba for removal of the bullets, and a spokesman at the Baptist Hospital said he would be released soon.

The gunmen opened fire as Nicholas, his daughter and Miss Pate were driving past the camp to return Carol to the American School near Tel Aviv. Miss Pate was shot in the head.

Nicholas has been in Gaza for 15 years. The ambush was his third brush with death there and his daughter's second. Guerrillas opened fire on his car in March 1969 and missed. The next month he and Carol were injured when his car exploded a mine.

Says Security Matter Not Up to Newspapers

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Herbert G. Klein, director of communications for the Nixon administration, says "chaos in government" could result if newspapers are allowed to determine what is a matter of national security and government employees are allowed to decide which documents they will give to the press.

Klein made the remarks Saturday at the mid-winter convention of Arkansas Press Association while discussing the recent release of supposedly secret information about the government's position on the Pakistan-India war by columnist Jack Anderson.

Klein also said the government will continue to have "background" briefings whenever "we feel they are in the public interest."

"The newspapers can decide whether to cover them," he said. "We need this kind of informal give and take if we're to provide the American public with all the information its entitled to."

Klein approached the recent controversy on backgrounding by saying that newsmen initiated the practice and that newsmen call more background sessions than does the government.

The controversy erupted after the Washington Post identified Dr. Henry Kissinger as the spokesman in its news accounts of a background session. In Washington news parlance, the controversy was about whether the newspapers can decide whether to cover them, he said. "We need this kind of informal give and take if we're to provide the American public with all the information its entitled to."

backgrounders occur when a government spokesman gives information to the news media with the understanding that the source will not be identified.

Klein said the administration had not stated its position on backgrounding before now because the subject was being argued by the news media, some waiting the background sessions to continue and others declaring that they would not participate.

Most of Klein's talk was devoted to a review of administration accomplishments and a prediction that 1972 will see implementation of revenue-sharing by the government, an additional health insurance program, a new welfare program and government reorganization in the "year of greatest domestic progress for this administration."

State Business Growth Good

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Business programmed more than $292 million in capital outlay for industrial growth in Arkansas during 1971 according to a report by the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce.

The report said a total of 8,670 new jobs are expected to be created by the new investments and expansion of existing plants.

The chamber said the largest expenditure by a single company was $135.5 million reported by Arkansas Power & Light Co. for routine expansion and its nuclear generating plant in Pope County. Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. was second with a growth expenditure of $39 million.

Included in the projected investment by private firms in the state was $51 million for 54 new plants and $33.5 million for expansion of 115 plants.

50,000 in State Benefit

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dalton Jennings, state commissioner of social services, says about 50,000 Arkansians will benefit from the Nixon administration's decision to restore full benefits to all eligible needy persons under the food stamp program.

Jennings said about 50,000 persons on the old age, disabled and blind welfare assistance rolls in the state had to pay more for food stamps because of the new regulations which took effect Jan. 1.

He said the decision to restore full benefits will mean about $3 million to $5 million additional in bonus coupons during 1972 for Arkansians who had been cut back.

"I certainly welcome the change," Jennings said. "We had been inundated with complaints."

Bonus coupons are the difference between what purchasers pay for the stamps and the face value of the stamps.

Before Jan. 1, a household of two persons with an income of $200 a month paid $36 and received coupons worth $56. Beginning Jan. 1, the same couple had to pay $48 for $60 in coupons.

There was no indication Sunday night of how soon the benefits would be restored to their former level.

Jennings said he did not expect any change in the liberalizing provisions of the Jan. 1 rules changes. The provisions increased benefits for participants with the lowest incomes and also made more persons eligible for food stamps by changing the income limit at which a person may participate.

Bar Group to Hear Clark

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark is scheduled to address the mid-year meeting of the Arkansas Bar Association at a luncheon Thursday.

The ABA meeting will be held concurrently with a workshop for the study of the American Bar Association's proposed Minimum Standards for Criminal Justice. Clark is chairman of the ABA's committee to implement the standards.

Gov. Dale Bumpers will speak Thursday evening on the efforts that are under way to update

Missiles Exchanged by U.S., Enemy

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — American fighter planes exchanged missiles with North Vietnamese anti-aircraft defenses along the Laotian border today and Sunday and were believed to have destroyed two of them, the U.S. Command announced. It said the American planes were not hit.

"There is a lot of air activity up there," said one U.S. officer, referring to the corridor along the criminal statutes in Arkansas.

the border between Laos and North Vietnam where American bombers are pounding the Ho Chi Minh trail network. "It is one of the heaviest days since the beginning of the dry season."

North Vietnamese missile batteries near the Ban Kari pass unleashed three surface-to-air missiles—SAMS—at U.S. planes operating in the region 35 to 45 miles north of the demilitarized zone and threatened others. U.S. fighters escorting the bombers fired two missiles, and the U.S. Command said one SAM site and one anti-aircraft artillery radar were believed destroyed.

On Saturday the U.S. pipots sighted North Vietnamese MIGs nearly 200 miles farther north, near the Barthelmy pass and east of the Plain of Jars in northern Laos. One MIG crossed the border and tried to intercept an American flight, but the American Phantom jets fired half a dozen missiles, and it fled back into North Vietnam unhurt.

Paralleling the intensified air action was a Communist "high point" of ground activity in South Vietnam, which began a week ago.

The South Vietnamese command reported 20 small-scale enemy ground assaults, rocket, mortar, sniper and terror attacks, most of them in the central and northern provinces of South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command reported that one American was killed when enemy ground fire hit a light observation helicopter supporting South Vietnamese operations 17 miles southwest of Da Nang.
